

Policy: ENews and Website Classified Policy

Effective Date: 2/1/2012

Exemptions: None

Pacific Crossroads Church offers a Classified section through our electronic newsletter and website as a service a) primarily to our church members and regular attenders, and b) to the community.

Crossroads neither promotes nor endorses anything contained herein. Crossroads shall have no responsibility for the accuracy or reliability of the information set forth herein and no liability whatsoever arising out of the use by anyone of this service. Everyone using this service agrees to these terms by such use. Crossroads reserves the right to refuse or limit any submissions.

Listing principles and guidelines include:

- Preference will be given to Crossroads members and regular attenders.
- Preference will be given to classifieds that Crossroads believes will appeal to the largest number of people in our community.
- No business advertising will be accepted or posted. There are 2 exceptions: 1) if the submitter is promoting an employment opportunity of potential benefit for our community, or 2) if the submitter is an official Member of Pacific Crossroads Church.
- No business soliciting will be accepted or posted.
- No personal soliciting for romantic/relational reasons will be accepted or posted.
- When a classified is approved and posted, the classified will run for maximum of 3 weeks.
 - Re-listings of the same item will not be accepted within the next 6 months of the date of the final listing.
 - When an item being listed in a post is no longer available, the submitter of the post should notify Crossroads immediately to remove the classified from being listed in the next cycle.
- A single individual can only post 1 classified at any given time.
- Again, Crossroads reserves the right to refuse, limit or edit any submissions.
